Saving Lives

WESTCHESTER
MEDICAL CENTER
FOUNDATION

My name is David Holt from Valley Cottage, New York, and Westchester Medical Center saved my life.

On March 18, 2008 I was transferred by helicopter to Westchester Medical Center after suffering a massive heart attack. I was very close to death and my family was told I had an 8% chance of survival.

The only thing that could save my life was a new heart.

Over the next few days I was stabilized with the help of some amazing doctors, extraordinary nurses, and incredible medical technology. Though critically ill, I got to see my beautiful daughter Eden married, in her mother's wedding dress, at my bedside in the ICU.

The next day, doctors implanted a left ventricle assist device or LVAD, in my chest that would keep me alive as I waited for a donor. I was moved to the top of the transplant list in one day. Thirteen days later as I prepared to leave the hospital with the LVAD I was told a heart was available. Within a few hours, the transplant was performed. Westchester Medical Center brought me from an 8% chance of survival to six months later when I was able to dance with my daughter at her wedding reception. In no uncertain terms, Westchester Medical Center saved my life.
